AL-HIKMAH UNIVERSITY FOUNDER ADDS ANOTHER FEATHER TO HIS CAP

The Omo Ibile Igbomina honoured the Founder of Al-Hikmah University, Alh. Chief (Dr.) Abdulraheem Oladimeji, OFR with a chieftaincy title of Asiwaju of Igbomina at the Palace of Olupo of Ajasse-Ipo on Saturday, 6th November, 2021.

The Olupo of Ajasse-Ipo, Barrister Oba Ismail Yahaya Atoloye Alebiosu in his speech stated that Alh. Chief (Dr.) Oladimeji is a true model for the sons and daughters of Igomina land because of his outstanding achievements and philanthropic nature. The Royal Father prayed that the founder would have long life, sound health and prosperity to enjoy his new office.

Chief (Dr.) Oladimeji, while expressing his appreciation, reiterated his commitment to the development of the entire Igbomina land by giving back in whatever capacity he could, as the growth of Igbomina land would remain his priority. The Founder thanked the entire Royal Fathers in Igbomina land for honouring him with the title of Asiwaju and prayed that their reign would be peaceful and prosperous too.

The Vice-Chancellor of Al-Hikmah University, Prof. Noah Yusuf in his remarks stated that the Founder deserved the title of Asiwaju because of his untiring effort towards the development of Igbomina land.

According to the Vice-Chancellor, "Dr. Oladimeji is a man who is passionate about the affairs of the people of Igbomina and he always champions the progress and development of the land". He, therefore, urged everyone to develop his/her home town and Nigeria because Allah would repay everyone accordingly.

President of Omo Ibile

Igbomina, Engr. Timothy Niyi Adebayo disclosed that after much deliberation with the Royal Fathers, sons and daughters of Igbomina on who to be appointed as the new Asiwaju, the Founder was unanimously nominated as the best candidate for the office given his sterling contributions to the growth and development of Igbomina land, Kwara State and the Nigerian nation in general.

STUDY AND WORK OPPORTUNITIES IN AL-HIKMAH UNIVERSITY

Studies, Al-Hikmah University on Monday, October 11, 2021.

The University Don commended the Centre for its innovation and urged the Centre to reach out to the K w a r a S t a t e Government on how to turn the state's waste to wealth. Further, he urged the Director of the Centre to sustain the initiative and sensitize staff and way to manage waste is to recycle it and generate wealth from it. According to him, "there is a ready market that would buy some of these wastes like metals, papers, nylons, plastics and cans. This is a win-win situation because we would be making money and making our environment clean at the same time".

Prof. Okunlola revealed that the Centre would soon launch its bio-gas project to be powered by animal wastes. This would save cost of buying cooking gas. He added that black fly and maggot production would be included, which would drastically reduce feeding of poultry animals by 40%.

The Director urged the governments at the state and federal levels to key into the initiative. In his words, "by 2030, Nigeria would be the third most populous country in the world with about 450 million people. So it is better for the country to start planning on waste management now in order to put the nation on the track of development".

The Vice-Chancellor of Al-Hikmah University, Prof. Noah Yusuf, has revealed that students of the university can make money while on their study. The Vice-Chancellor stated this while unveiling the recycle waste boxes/drums produced by the Abdulraheem Oladimeji Centre for Entrepreneurial and Vocational students on the appropriate use of the waste boxes/drums.

The Director, Abdulraheem Oladimeji Centre for Entrepreneurial and Vocational Studies, Prof. Ipoola Okunlola in his address said that waste is increasing on a daily basis and there is the need to safeguard the environment. He added that the best

INTRODUCE CHILDREN TO ENTREPRENEURSHIP RIGHT FROM PRIMARY SCHOOL – DR. SALAWDEEN

The Acting Director, General Studies Unit (GNS), Dr. Waheed Olarenwaju Salawdeen has appealed to the government at all levels to include entrepreneurship and skills acquisition in the curriculum of pupils in the primary school.

The Acting Director stated this in his office during an interaction with the Information Crew of the University on Monday, November 22, 2021.

Dr. Salawdeen stated that the exposure of pupils to entrepreneurship would enable them to identify their strengths at the early stage and this would eventually reduce unemployment among youths

In his words, "the GNS Unit has a great potential because of the entrepreneurial skills acquisition included in the course work which would make the University to produce job employers rather than job seekers". The skills acquisition is not limited to production of finished goods alone but also encompasses marketing strategies of goods and services

The Acting Director added that the GNS Unit should not be solely focused on teaching and conducting examinations alone but also encouraging students to learn a skill or float a business before they graduate.

Dr. Salawdeen therefore urged all universities nationwide to focus more on practical based teaching rather than theory based teaching as acquisition of practical skills by students will enhance national development.

analysing and developing programmes that protect the health of individuals, focusing on preventing disease and injury by promoting healthy lifestyles and implementing educational programmes and policies, administering services and regulating health systems. He added that health commissioners/directors, public health sanitarians, public health technicians or engineers, public health nurses, epidemiologists, public health educators, doctors and nutritionists are all health practitioners.

In his words “the roles of public health professionals in the effective delivery of health care are: creating awareness, assessment, monitoring and data collection, identifying prevailing health issues in the community, planning educational

The Registrar of the Institute, Mr. Ayo Bankole in his remarks stated that he was impressed with the academic programmes of the University which are all accredited. He assured the University Management of the Institute's collaboration in order to help propagate the activities of the University. He added that the Institute would run a print advertisement for Al-Hikmah University and also include the University in the Institute's brochure so as to inform the masses of the programmes run by the University.

Mr. Bankole further stated that the Institute would be collaborating with Al-Hikmah University very soon on a three-day workshop in Kwara State for all public health professionals and students.

The Institute's Registrar urged the Dean of Health Sciences to initiate plan for commencing postgraduate programmes in public health as the University has the facility and manpower for it.

The Vice-Chancellor, Al-Hikmah University, Prof. Noah Yusuf in his remarks said the induction is the first in the history of the University. Prof. Yusuf added that Al-Hikmah University is the second

University in Nigeria to have its undergraduate students inducted into AIPHP. He appreciated the public health professionals for being part of Al-Hikmah University history. He equally expressed his gratitude to the Dean, Faculty of Health Sciences for his role in making it a reality. He prayed for continuous progress of the University.

“Education is the passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to those who prepare for it today.”

He added that health promotion, surveillance, research, risk communication, disease prevention, epidemics outbreak analysis and monitoring are all components of public health.

The African Institute of Public Health Professionals (AIPHP) inducted the first set of Al-Hikmah University Public Health students and some of their lecturers as associates on Wednesday, November 24, 2021 at the University Auditorium.

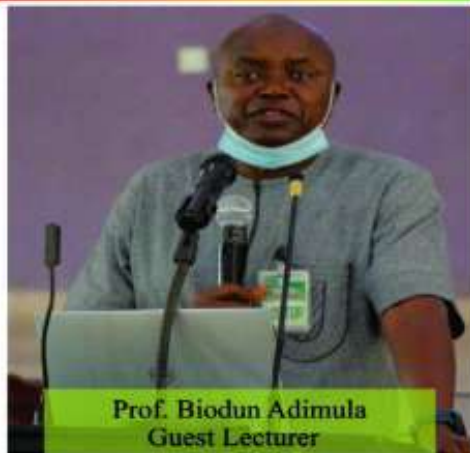

The Dean, Faculty of Health Sciences, Prof. Olabode Kayode, while delivering his welcome speech stated that Al-Hikmah University has made a landmark achievement in health education because it is one of the very few institutions in Nigeria that offers public health programme at the undergraduate level.

Prof. Kayode added that the induction of public health professionals are at three levels, namely; associate, members and fellows. He congratulated the inductees for the great feat in their professional career. He urged the newly inducted members to contribute their quota to the public health profession.

The Guest speaker, Dr. Olubiye Simeon Kayode while delivering his lecture titled: “The Role of Public Health Professionals in the effective delivery of health care system in Africa” defines public health as the science and the art of preventing diseases, prolonging life, and promoting physical health and efficiency through organised community efforts.

Dr. Kayode highlighted some functions of public health professionals, which include

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION IS BASED ON STRATEGIC, TACTICAL AND OPERATIONAL LEVELS—PROF. ADIMULA

Prof. Biodun Adimula
Guest Lecturer

Prof. Biodun Adimula has reiterated that administration of the university is primarily based on three levels. These are strategic, tactical and operational levels, which function in unison to enhance effective service delivery and human relations within the system. Prof. Adimula stated this at the workshop organized by the university for Deans, Heads of Department, Directors of Centres/Units and Level Advisers on effective service delivery on Wednesday, October 27, 2021.

According to him, “the strategic level consist of Governing Council headed by the Pro-Chancellor and the team is responsible for strategic management of resources, revenue generation, appointments and discipline; the tactical level is made up of the Senate of the university, the organ that is responsible for instilling and maintaining academic integrity and regulations; and the operational level which consists of the School of Postgraduate Studies, Colleges, Faculties, Departments and Directorates that are responsible for addressing the needs of the immediate community, conducting high technology researchs and in-house trainings and ensuring staff and students’ welfare”.

Prof. Adimula said that a Dean/Provost should normally be a Professor; chair all board meetings in the faculty; exercise general superintendence over the administrative and academic activities of the faculty; be familiar with the university’s laid-down procedures for promotion; be concerned about students’ welfare; present students for convocation in the faculty and submit an annual report, through the office of Director of Academic Planning, to the Vice-Chancellor.

The seasoned University administrator urged all level advisers to be diligent, patient, tolerant and do their job with high level of professionalism because they are the first contact points with the students. Prof. Adimula also enunciated the roles of Examination Officers/Sub-Deans, which include making arrangement for smooth conduct of examinations; provision of conducive halls and their allocations for examinations; preparation examinations time-table, collection of examinations materials; and being centrally responsible for the proper conduct of examinations within the faculty.

He also explained the role expected of the Director of Academic Planning. According to him, “these include liaising with National Universities Commission; preparing the university programmes for accreditation, statistics, planning and implementing the Management’s policies pertaining to academics and curriculum; producing and implementing the university’s strategic plan; developing academic and technological staff; producing annual report of the University and preparing the University’s budget in conjunction with the Bursary Unit.

Prof. Adimula added that the Director of ICT is responsible for digital transformation of the institution. The issue of virtual/hybrid classes, automation of workforce processes, development, maintenance of subscribed softwares/licenses, maintenance of ICT infrastructure, organising regular trainings, workshops and conferences and general mentoring of staff are core duties of the ICT directorate.

AL-HIKMAH HOLDS WORKSHOP FOR TEACHING STAFF

In an effort to enhance quality delivery that meets global best practices, the university management organized a workshop for the teaching staff at the University Auditorium on Tuesday, 2nd November, 2021.

The first speaker, an Associate Professor, Dr. Alimi Olasunkanmi Maruf, while presenting his paper titled "High quality learning materials design and its payback to stakeholders", stated that quality materials take time to produce and enough resources should be allocated to it. He highlighted five types of learning materials which include print, visual, audio, audio-visual and electronic. He added that for a learning material to be adjudged as quality, it should be relevant, flexible, authentic, produced from a suitable published material, measured and evaluated. He added that the teacher can use the hybrid method which is a combination of physical materials, e-learning materials, virtual or remote learning materials and ICT tools (hardware and software) for teaching.

Dr. Alimi however urged lecturers to stop using information, papers, thoughts, ideas, tables, figures of other scholars among others, without proper documentation as no one can develop learning materials without referencing. According to him "the student will perform better because they have the opportunity to listen to the audio, watch the video and read their notes after the normal lectures. All these would have positive impacts on education, Learner's Needs" submitted that courseware is an educational material intended as kits for teachers or as tutorials for students, usually packaged for use with (or without) a computer and it can take various forms like; exploratory hypertext, lesson and task oriented hypertext, simulation software and task solving environments.

According to him, "a typical courseware should include; the course code, title, status, unit, description, student learning objectives, course retirements, course contents and outline, assessment (both formative and summative) and grading system".

added that the component of course content is crucial to the learning of the student and that is why lecturers should not take it with levity as it would be a key determinant of the students' level of success. He therefore, urged the university lecturers to put in their best in order to meet up with these global best practices.

REGULAR EXERCISE INCREASES IMMUNITY - CMD KWARA STATE GENERAL HOSPITAL

Dr. Ahmed Abdulkadir
Chief Medical Director of Kwara State General Hospital

The Chief Medical Director of Kwara State General Hospital, Dr. Ahmed Abdulkadir, has revealed that regular exercise boosts immune system and fights against diseases that can harm the body system.

Dr. Abdulkadir said this in an event organised by the Chief Instructor, Al-Hikmah University Gymnasium, Mr. Akorede Kehinde Monsur titled "Exercise is Medicine, Walk to Live Mega Workout" on Saturday, November 20, 2021. The workout commenced at about 6:50 am from the Kwara State Stadium through Geri-Alimi and Western Reservoir Road down to Al-Hikmah

University campus where different sessions of aerobics followed.

According to the Chief Medical Director, "studies have shown that many patients that die from cardiovascular diseases like stroke or heart attack do not regularly participate in exercises with over 100 health benefits". He added that no drugs or medication can be substituted for the role of exercise in the body and whoever exercises regularly has succeeded in reducing large number of disease or infection.

Dr. Abdulkadir therefore, encouraged participants to ensure consistent exercise as it saves individuals from future problem that can emanate from the body system.

The Vice-Chancellor, Al-Hikmah University, Prof. Noah Yusuf in his remarks appreciated the large turnout of the participants and urged them to exercise regularly in order to have a sharp mind and healthy body to carry out their daily activities.

The Director of Sports,

University of Ilorin, Prof. Dominic Olufumilola while expressing her appreciation to the organizers added that exercise is life and that exercise has positive benefits to people, especially when it comes to the issue of health. She urged everyone present to take their daily exercises seriously, if they want to live a healthy long life.

Mr. Akorede Kehinde Monsur in his closing remarks appreciated the participants and urged them to participate in the next edition which would be announced soon.

The event was well attended by prominent people in Ilorin. Some of them are: the Pioneer Vice-Chancellor, Al-Hikmah University, Prof. Musbau Adewumi Akanji; the Chairman Kwara State National Sports Commission, Mr. Bola Mogaji; Kwara Football Academy Coordinator, Mr. Oladele Bako; Nigeria Association of Athletics and Technical official, Mrs. Ahmed Hadiza Mubo and many other personalities across the nation.

MENTAL ILLNESS IS WORSE THAN PHYSICAL ILLNESS – DR. ADEYEMI

The Principal Medical Officer and Acting Director of Al-Hikmah University Health Services, Dr. Bashirat Adeyemi said the cases of mental illness is rampant in the society and that government should create more awareness about the ailment as it is deadlier than physical illness.

The Principal Medical Officer revealed this in an interaction with the Information Crew in her office on Tuesday, November 17, 2021.

According to the Director, “physical health is a state of complete wellbeing of someone physically, emotionally, socially and spiritually; not just the absence of a disease or infirmity, while mental health is a state of wellbeing where individuals recognise their abilities to cope with normal stress, work productively and contribute their own quota to the development of the society”.

Dr. Adeyemi added that mental capital is like a bank account that can be subjective and it entails the totality of a person's cognitive ability, emotional resources, emotional intelligence, self esteem and resilience to face any stress.

She added that individual's inability to control one's cognitive resources is termed as mental disorder. The principal medical officer highlighted the causes which include genetic causes, organic causes, drug abuse, low self esteem and personality issues. In her words, “there are some indicators that can make people know if someone is stable. These include life satisfaction, optimism, high self esteem, ability to cope with normal stress, social integration and spirituality”.

Dr. Adeyemi revealed that the effect of mental disorder leads to physical disorder and leads back to mental disorder, in a cyclic manner. She added that most people tend to believe that anyone with mental disorder is usually aggressive but that is not true because majority of people with mental disorder are not aggressive as perceived by the society.

The Acting Director, thus, stated that mental disorder can be prevented in our society, if every individual can recognise the symptoms and visit medical practitioners when the need arises. Provision of adequate fund to the health sectors by the government, non-stigmatization of mental health patients and subtle framing of suicidal cases in the mass media are some of the measures that can ameliorate challenges that come with mental disorder cases.

AL-HIKMAH UNIVERSITY HOLDS SECOND QUARTERLY FREE MEDICAL SCREENING FOR STAFF

The Al-Hikmah University Health Services Unit under the leadership of Dr. Bashirat Adeyemi organised second medical screening for the University staff on Friday, November 19, 2021.

The Acting Director, Al-Hikmah University Health Services Unit, Dr. Bashirat Adeyemi reiterated the commitment of the university management to sound healthcare for its staff and urged all staff to benefit from the medical screening as it remains the primary step towards preventing all kinds of ailments. She added that the free screening would be repeated every three months. Speaking further, she said that the outcome of the medical screening would be used to discover if people with health challenges from the previous screening have controlled their health issues. According to her, “the screening would be focusing more on blood pressure, blood sugar level, pulse and weight with a view to counselling staff members who have health issues and for timely referral if the need arises”.

In her words, “the unit engaged the services of the final year students of public health currently on their internship to assist and also learn procedures on how to carry out a successful community outreach, though the students were not included in the clinical aspects of the test because of confidentiality”.

Dr. Adeyemi, therefore, urged every staff to embrace the screening exercise as it would assist them to detect any ailment at early stage for quick medical intervention.

HEALTH IS WEALTH - AL-HIKMAH GYM INSTRUCTOR

The Chief Instructor, Al-Hikmah University Gymnasium, Mr. Akorede Kehinde Monsur has stated that living healthy should be the priority of everyone and engaging in constant exercise is the secret for healthy life. This was expressed during an interview session Information Crew had with him at the Gym of Al-Hikmah University on Wednesday, October 20, 2021.

Mr. Akorede revealed that health is wealth and exercise is beyond shedding weight, gaining six packs, building muscles and keeping physically fit because daily exercise helps combat illness in our body system.

In his words, "Al-Hikmah University Gym is unique compared to other gym centres in town because the gym is located in a serene and secured environment with state-of-the-art facilities mounted by a qualified and certified physiotherapist and physical instructor". He added that the gym is open from Monday to Saturday for all members of the community. Other interested persons from outside can pick up the registration form for just N 500 and a monthly fee of N 5,000 only.

The Gym Instructor added that the centre would organise a walk-to-live exercise on Saturday, November 20, 2021, where people would converge in the Kwara State Stadium and walk down to Al-Hikmah University in addition to health talk by the Chief Medical Director of Ilorin General Hospital, Dr. Ahmed Abdulkadir. He added that though the event is free, vests are available at the rate of N 2,500 each for interested participants.

On a final note, Mr. Akorede urged everyone to engage in a minimum of 30 minutes exercise daily because exercises boost immune system and keep diseases at bay.
