“To serve as fore-runner in the provision of quality University education of international standard

Our Mission:

“To be an educational institution where sound academic knowledge blends with moral and spiritual excellence”

NATIONAL ANTHEM

Arise, O compatriots
Nigeria's call obey
To serve our fatherland
With love and strength and faith.
The labour of our heroes past
Shall never be in vain,
To serve with heart and might
One nation bound in freedom
Peace and unity.

O God of creation,
Direct our noble cause
Guide our leaders right
Help our youth the truth to know
In love and honesty to grow
And living just and true
Great lofty heights attain
To build a nation where peace
And justice shall reign

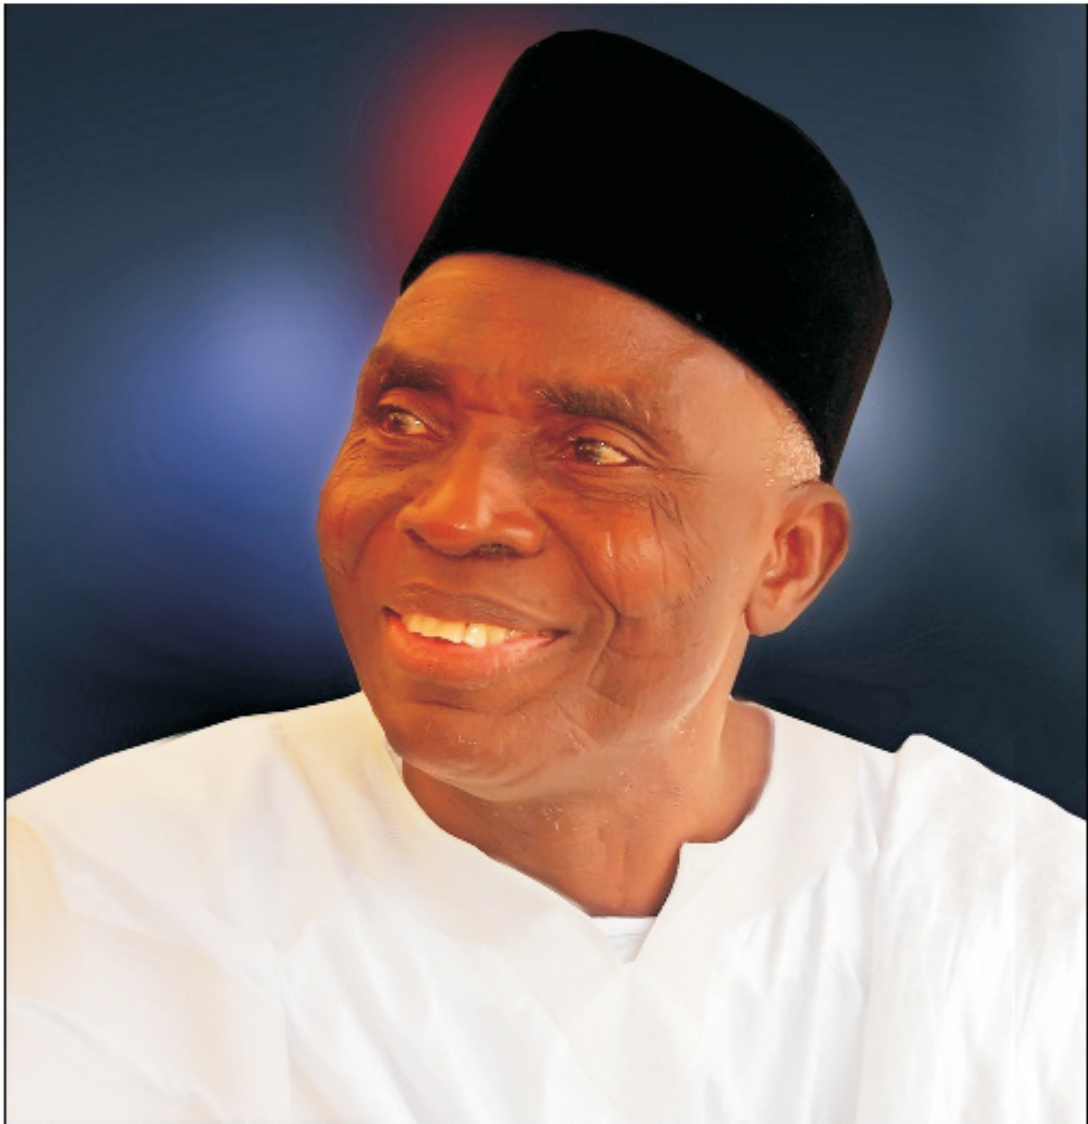

AL-HIKMAH ANTHEM

Allahu Akbar x3
In his name the almighty,
Beneficent, merciful,
In Kwara state of harmony,
Of our nation Nigeria,
Comes a faith-based university
For all seekers of knowledge,

Allahu Akbar x3
Will ensure Al-Hikmah university
Is the greatest,
With prayers and persistence
We have plotted our plans,
Prosperity and happiness
In sha allah we shall earn.
Allahu Akbar x3

PHILOSOPHY

Al-Hikmah University provides opportunities to deserving Nigerian youth and those of other nationalities with requisite and appropriate instructional guidance for the:

- i. Acquisition, development and inculcation of the proper value orientation for the survival of the individual and the society;
- ii. Development of the intellectual capacities of individuals to understand and appreciate their environments;
- iii. Acquisition of both physical and intellectual skills, which will enable individuals to develop into useful members of the community.
- iv. Acquisition of individual and collective sense of patriotism and an objective view of the local and external environments in order to promote mutual understanding, unity and national development.

Al-Hikmah University accommodates persons whether staff or students of any religious inclination, gender, nationality, tribe or race as long as the primary motives are to pursue teaching, learning and excellence in research through existing or new information dissemination, to build a store house of knowledge for the survival of the nation and to serve both the immediate community and the larger society.

OBJECTIVES

In order to actualize the stated mission and demonstrate in practical terms the fulfillment of the mission and philosophy of Al-Hikmah University, it is necessary to give concrete meaning and practical strategy within well-determined objective, which are as follows:

- i. To create an academic environment where competent, qualified and enthusiastic scholars, researchers, academics and professionals shall meet both the national and global educational challenges and demands;
- ii. To train and transform youths to be patriotic men and women of vision and wisdom so as to be able to develop positive and proper understanding of their environment;
- iii. To evolve, and provide a healthy atmosphere and good opportunity for international co-operation, through academic interactions and other forms of research endeavours, for the promotion of national development and international understanding;
- iv. To complement government efforts in the development of a relevant, qualitative and result-oriented University education that would facilitate technological, scientific and socio-cultural transformation of Nigeria;
- v. To provide opportunities of higher education for teaming Nigerian youths that would enhance their personal development through the fulfillment of their educational aspirations which would make them become employable in order to contribute to national development;
- vi. To undertake practical steps for ideological, moral, intellectual, economic and technological development of principles, ideas and goals in accordance with the stated norms of the National policy on Education for the development of practical solutions to contemporary issues and problems of the nation;
- vii. To instill in the youths and other groups of individuals the virtues of self-confidence, self-respect, civic responsibility, identification with national laws, goals and aspirations for the overall benefit of individuals, the immediate society, the nation and the entire world.

FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR'S DESK

PROF. NOAH YUSUF

B.Sc. (Hons), M.Sc., Ph.D. (Ibadan), mCIS, mICMC, fSPSP
Vice-Chancellor

Alhamdulillah Robil Al Ameen. I give thanks to Almighty Allah (SWT) for His Infinite Grace and Mercy over us and for granting us His special Grace to pilot the affairs of our great citadel - Al- Hikmah University, Ilorin - the first Islamic faith-based university in Nigeria.

The compilation of 2020/2021 Annual Report of the University becomes imperative for some obvious reasons. First, it is a mandatory exercise of every serious institution or organisation which seeks to attain greatness by recording its past activities, reflecting on them and charting a better future. Second, I discovered that, to date, the University has no record of such report. Third, since the current administration has taken up the onerous task of blazing the trail in several aspects of the University life, including the establishment of International School, commencement of inaugural lectures, initiative on strategic plan, debut of University journal, among others, this publication would be included among such feats.

During the period covered by this report - 2020/2021 academic session, all the relevant units of the University engaged in a number of activities and recorded substantial achievements. At the Management level, the smooth academic and administrative running of the University was maintained. In addition, greater efforts were made to support human capital development through in-house workshops and trainings. Both academic and non-academic staff were sponsored on conferences and trainings. The University Management also successfully had National Universities Commission accreditation within the period. Alhamdulillah, the University secured full accreditation in all the 23 academic programmes presented for accreditation between March and April, 2021 (except for only one with interim status) while all the 11 programmes which were accredited in January, 2022, secured full accreditation status.

At the faculty and departmental levels, apart from the teaching and research activities, deans and heads of departments were challenged to commence regular seminars. Reports from faculties and departments show that many of them have commenced these academic activities. The University Management has indicated willingness to collaborate with sister universities on staff exchange and trainings, and in particular, training on research grant winning skills. This has commenced in earnest during the 2020/2021 academic session with workshops on pedagogy (facilitated by Professors R. A. Lawal and F. A. O. Olasehinde Williams of University of Ilorin) as well as virtual workshop on grant writing skill (delivered by Professor Ayodele S. Jegede of University of Ibadan).

The various centres were also behives of activities throughout the period under review. The robust engagement between the centres and the University Management on the one hand and between them and students, University community and the public, on the other, contributed immensely to the national and national visibility of the University.

Finally, as the University progresses towards delivery of its core mandate to the Nigerian public and global community, all of us who are stakeholders in this great task must redouble our efforts and resolve to ensure the attainment of the noble vision of our University - to serve as forerunner in the provision of quality University education of international standard.

May Almighty Allah (SWT) help us all. Ameen.

ORGANIZATION CHART OF THE UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC PLANNING UNIT

Dr S. L. Nurudeen

B.Sc. (Ibadan), M.Sc. (Ilorin), Ph.D. (Malete)

Ag. Director, Academic Planning

Introduction

The Academic Planning Unit is one of the units under the Vice Chancellor's Office. The Unit is headed by Dr S L Nurudeen, who is a high ranking academic staff of the University. He is assisted by some relevant professionals and other support staff. The Director is directly responsible to the Vice Chancellor for the day-to-day activities of the Unit. The Unit occupies Rooms 18 and 19 of the former Postgraduate Wing of the University. Room 18 is for the Director while Room 19 serves as the General Office. The Unit superintends over the academic activities of the University, some of which are highlighted below:

The Unit Coordinates all efforts towards National Universities Commission (NUC) and other Council's accreditation of academic programmes in the University.

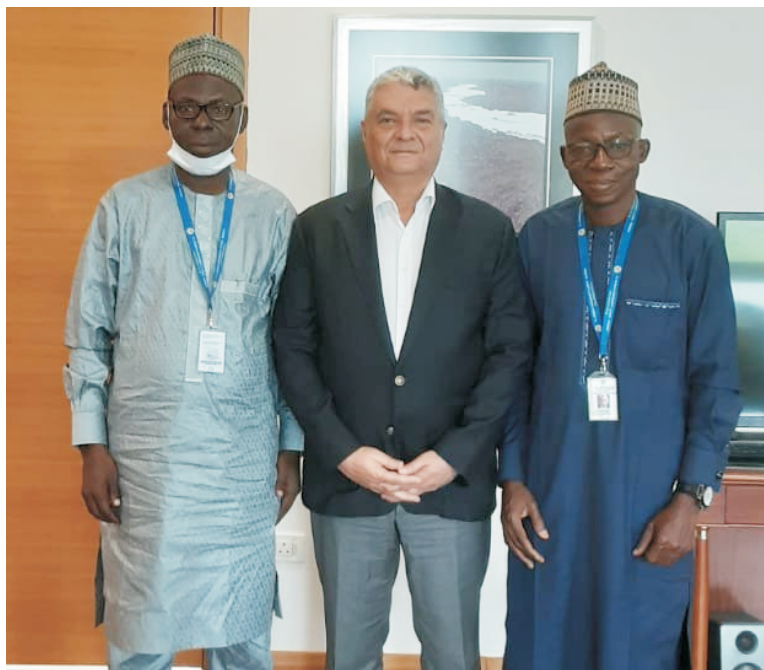

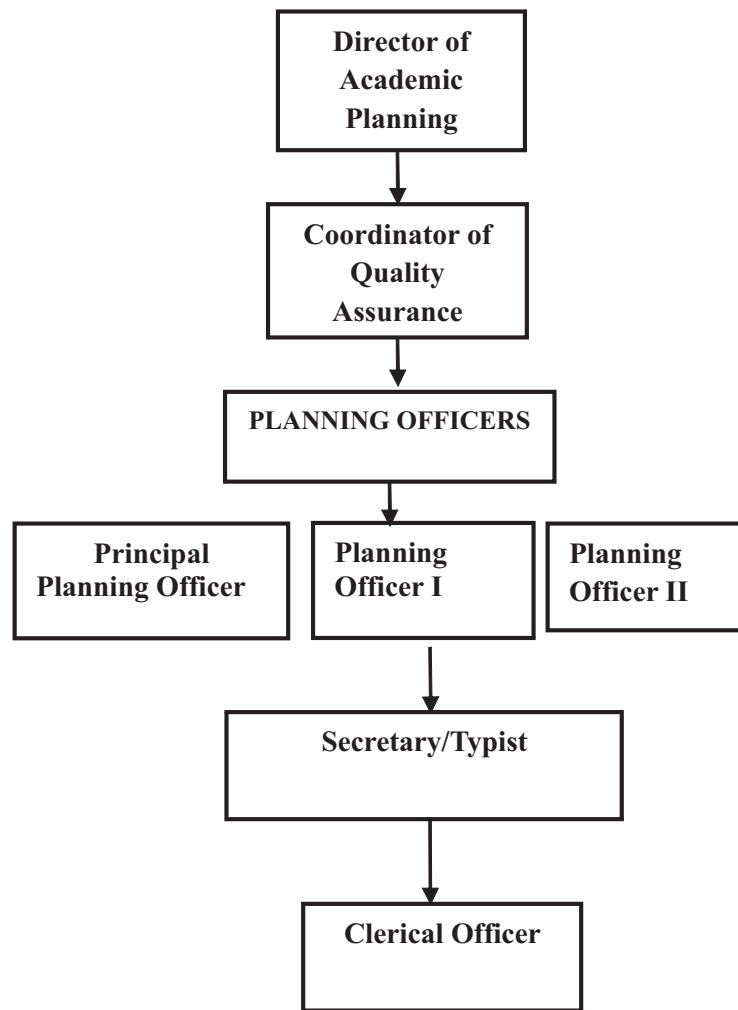

The Academic Planning Unit serves as a link between the University and the National Universities Commission (NUC), which is the regulatory body of all Universities in the country. It serves as the quality control office of the University, co ordinates and streamlines all academic related issues of the University, in line with the guidelines of the NUC, as well as monitors the growth and development of new academic programmes.

In the performance of its statutory functions of teaching, research and community development as well as public service, the Unit serves as data bank for the University in respect of staff, students and other statistics required in guiding Management in the decision making process on academic matters in the University.

The University currently has 50 fully accredited undergraduate programmes spread across 7 faculties, namely: Humanities and Social Sciences, Natural and Applied Sciences, Management Sciences, and the Faculty of Education. Others are Faculty of Law, Faculty of Agricultural Science and the Faculty of Health Sciences. Presently, our Postgraduate School has over 50 programmes ranging from Postgraduate Diploma and Masters to Ph.D. across all the faculties, except the new Faculty of Agriculture.

ACTIVITIES EXECUTED AND OUTCOMES:

1. NUC and Council's Accreditation Exercises

The Academic Planning Unit, as part of its statutory functions took charge of the preparation of the accreditation and re-accreditation of twenty-three (23) of our undergraduate programmes which ought to have taken place in 2020 academic session but was postponed due to COVID-19 pandemic and ASUU strike.

To conduct the pending November/December, 2020 accreditation between March and April, 2021, twenty-One (21) accreditation teams comprising of eighty (80) panelists drawn from various universities across the nation and NUC were deployed for the exercise. The 23 programmes presented are:

- B.A. Arabic
- B.A. History and International Studies
- B.A. Islamic Studies
- B.Sc. Mass Communication
- B.Sc. Political Science and Conflict Resolution
- B.Sc. Public Administration
- B.Sc. Accounting
- B.Sc. Banking and finance
- B.Sc. Business Administration
- B.Sc. Economics
- B.Sc. Biochemistry
- B.Sc. Microbiology
- B.Sc. Physics with Electronics
- B.Sc. Industrial Chemistry
- B.Sc. Petroleum Chemistry
- B.Sc. Cyber Security • B.Sc. Information System
- B.Sc. Ed. Biology Education
- B.Sc. Ed. Computer Science Education
- B.LIS. Library and Information Science Education

- B.Sc. Ed. Educational Technology Education
- B.Sc. Public Health
- B. MLS Medical Laboratory Science

The result of the NUC accreditation exercise was favourable as twenty-two (22) of the programmes presented earned full accreditation status, while, only B.Sc. Information had Interim accreditation status.

2. Medical Laboratory Science Council of Nigeria (MLSCN) Accreditation

The Academic Planning Unit after the NUC accreditation, immediately, swung into action to ensure no stone was left unturned for the professional accreditation of Medical Laboratory Science programme. The 4-man team for the accreditation exercise was hosted by the University. The professional accreditation exercise took place between 21st and 23rd, September, 2021. The result of the exercise was also a success story.

3. Existing Academic–Related Committees Linked with the Unit

i. Academic Programme Planning Committee (APPC)

The APPC is a Senate Committee headed by the Deputy Vice Chancellor, Prof. G. O. Akashoro. The Committee is saddled with the responsibilities of looking into issues relating to the development and review of curricula of programmes and other related issues. The Committee is however, expected to report back to Senate for final approval. The Academic Planning Unit serves as the secretariat for the activities of Committee.

The Committee was very active during the year under review, as members worked tirelessly to see to the establishment of some new programmes. The following programmes were processed for Senate ratification and approval and all of these programmes had since commenced.

- i. M.Ed. Chemistry
- ii. M.Ed. Mathematics
- iii. M.Ed. Business Education
- iv. Ph.D. Science Education
- v. Certificate in Enterprise Development,
- vi. Sixteen (16) undergraduate Sandwich Degree Programmes for Continuing Education
- vii. Four postgraduate Sandwich Degree Programmes for Continuing Education
- viii. Professional Certificate in Islamic Estate Distribution and Certificate in Da'wah and Imamship Practice
- ix. Ph.D., M.A., PGD, and Certificate programmes in Peace and Security Studies.

ii. The Strategic Planning Committee (SPC)

The SPC is chaired by the Dean of Postgraduate School, Prof. A.O.Y. Raji. The DAP and the Principal Planning Officer and some other members constitute members of this Committee. In fulfillment of part of its mandate, the SPC left no stone unturned in ensuring that the 5-year working plan is put in place to serve as blueprint for the present Vice Chancellor. To achieve this important task, the Committee after several meetings embarked on a retreat to complete the work. This is also a landmark achievement for the University.

4. Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) Agreements

As part of efforts to meet the need of some of our Health Sciences programmes, the Unit facilitated the signing of MoU with the University of Ilorin Teaching Hospital (UIITH) and Lubcon Company Limited. The MoU is to enable their laboratories serve as external laboratories for Medical Laboratory Science and Petroleum Chemistry Students, respectively, as required by their various counsels.

5. Nigeria Bureau of Statistics Data Form

The Unit received a survey questionnaire form from this Bureau requesting for data on staff, students, incomes and other activities of the University. The form was completed and submitted on behalf of the University.

6. NUC State of University Education in Nigeria

As part of following-up on the publication The State of University Education in Nigeria with the 2019 edition, the NUC requested a maximum of 7-page report together with the statistics component to be completed and sent via online. The report and other statistical forms were completed and submitted within the stipulated time on behalf of the University.

7. NUC Digest

The Director during the 2020/2021 academic session, out of his tight schedule created time during the day and sometimes at night to attend online meetings and trainings organised, by the National Universities Commission on modalities for completing the assignment inspite of the tight schedules.

8. The Examination Time-Table and Space Allocation Committee (ETSAC)

This Committee is chaired by the Director of Academic Planning while the Deputy Registrar (Academic) is the Secretary. The Committee meets regularly to look into time-tables for all lectures and examinations within the University.

9. Other Activities Undertaken by the Unit are:

- The Director served as the Chairman of the 2021 Convocation Ceremonials Committee
- The Unit played a major role in the preparations of the University annual Budget.
- The Unit, in collaboration with the Academic Affair Unit, is also responsible for the preparation of the University's Annual Calender.
- The Unit works with heads of departments to produce students' handbook on a regular basis.

Challenges

- i. The Unit is under staffed compared to what is applicable in other Universities. We, therefore, wish to request that the manpower needs of the Unit be enhanced with the engagement of holders of relevant degrees with ICT knowledge in order to meet the NUC Quality Assurance Standards considering the volume of work the Unit.
- ii. Inadequate training for the staff of the Unit. The Unit is a technical Unit hence, the need for regular training to enhance performances.
- iii. Lack of access to University's data for proper planning and to meet NUC statistical requests at all times.

FACULTY OF AGRICULTURE

DR K. S. L. OLORUNISOLA
Ph.D.
Ag. Dean, Faculty of Agriculture

BRIEF ON THE FACULTY

The Faculty in the year under review performed all administrative duties in line with the University guidelines by engaging in teaching, research and development of the host community. Academic and non-academic staff were forthcoming in their obligations to the Faculty and the University at large.

The Faculty engaged in farming activities. It planted crops and raised broiler chicken for sale to the university community covering all the three campuses, Igbaja inclusive. Within this period, the Faculty expanded its land cultivation and started dry season farming. More space meant for agricultural purposes was cleared to further expand areas required to meet standards available in many faculties of agriculture around the country. In the same vein, a staff on sabbatical joined the services of the Faculty, servicing the Agronomy Department and assisting in nurturing the system with his wealth of knowledge. Worthy to note is that the Faculty encountered several challenges on its farms in terms of low quality personnel, insufficient personnel, herdsman intrusions and other human constraints leading to reduction in harvest of farm produce.

ACTIVITIES OF THE FACULTY IN THE YEAR

The Faculty engaged in teaching, research and development of the host community in terms of improved cooperation it extends in academic and social activities. The Faculty also engaged in crop planting and animal rearing operations that saw it selling produce to the university community at affordable prices.

In the year under review, the Faculty held meetings with the relevant heads of the host community to nip the menace of herdsmen intrusion in the bud so that farming activities could go on as planned. Effort was also made to clear some boundaries of the farm area to clearly allow herders to recognise the University territories.

Facilities for dry season farming were installed in the year while brooding pen was completed and put to use to rear broiler chickens for supply to both the university community and Igbaja community.

Challenges

- i. Inadequate staffing
- ii. Lack of adequate laboratory equipment.
- iii. Short funding in terms of ways and means.

ISSUES OF NOTE

The following among other things are required by the Faculty:

- Igbaja campus needs adequate fencing to prevent intruders from entering the campus illegally.
- The Faculty needs more hands in teaching, research and farming activities for improved service delivery.

- There are no laboratories to service Animal Science, Agronomy and Agricultural Economics and Extension Departments.
- There is the need to construct modern hostel facilities on the campus to accommodate increasing number of students.
- There is the need to construct a standard mosque for observance of daily prayers by staff and students.
- The number of drivers in the Faculty should be increased as the current staff is overstretched.

OUTCOMES/INNOVATIONS

- Several bags of maize and sorghum were produced in the year and sold on behalf of the university.
- Chicken pen was operated using modern methods of brooding and rearing.
- Efforts were made to farm during dry season using irrigation systems.

FACULTY OF EDUCATION

DR AKINNUBI, OLAOLU PAUL
B. Ed., M.Ed., Ph.D. (Ilorin)
Ag. Dean

BRIEF ON THE FACULTY

Faculty of Education was established on June 5, 2011 with two Departments-Arts and Social Sciences Education (ASSE) and Educational Management (EMT), six programmes and 11 students. It initially started on March 1, 2008 with a Continuing Education and Extension Services in ARB and ISS. The Faculty now houses three departments-Arts and Social Sciences Education (ASSE), Educational Management and Counselling (EMC) and Science Education (SE), 16 programmes with students population of over 400. There are 21 academic staff cut across the three departments. The Faculty also runs Degrees by Sandwich in its approved 16 programmes.

DEPARTMENT OF ARTS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES EDUCATION

DR OWOYALE-ABDULGANIYU I. S.
B.Ed., M.Ed., Ph.D. (Ilorin)
Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The idea of establishing the Department was mooted in 2011. The Department finally took off in 2011/2012 academic session when the University successfully admitted students into various programmes of the Department. The pioneer students of the Department compriseded four (4) students in Arabic Education, Two students in Islamic Studies Education and one student each in Economics and Political Science Education programmes.

The Department currently houses the following programmes:

- a. Arabic Language Education
- b. Economics Education
- c. English Language Education
- d. Islamic Studies Education
- e. Political Science Education
- f. Social Studies Education

In 2017/2018 academic session, Islamic Studies Education and Arabic Language Education programmes commenced Master degree programmes leading to award of M.Ed. degree in the programmes. Also Ph.D. in both Islamic Studies and Education and Arabic Language Education programmes were introduced in 2020/2021 academic session.

Currently, the department has six programmes at the undergraduate level and two programmes at postgraduate level.

The acting head relates cordially and officially with the academic staff, the non-teaching staff, and the students for smooth running of the department.

ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT IN THE YEAR

a. Undergraduate Programmes

Allocation of students to supervisors for project and dissertation writing is a core activity that comes up in the Department. The students in 400 Level are to write a project for them to graduate, as well as the postgraduate students. Registration of students for the courses they offer comes up at the beginning of first semester under the guidance of each level adviser and Acting Head of Department. Other activities carried out in the department include: orientation for students on various academic issues and maintenance of discipline, supervision of examinations and marking student scripts, computation, uploading and printing of students' examination results by lecturers and supervision of students' projects by lecturers in the Department.

b. Postgraduate Programmes

A postgraduate programme was approved during resource verification that came up in 2017/2018. As such, M.Ed in Islamic Studies Education, Arabic Language Education and Ph.D. in both programmes are currently being run.

c. Other Programmes

Top-Up Degree/HND Conversion as Weekend Degree Programmes

This cuts across every department in the University. The departmental lecturers participate in the programme. A departmental coordinator was appointed for the programme. Another programme established in the University in which the department participates is the Sandwich Degree programme and Continuing Education degree programme. The department participates in the teaching of all approved courses; which comes up during long vacation from July- October every year.

d. Other Activities

Other activities in the department include holding of departmental meetings to discuss crucial matters that border on the progress of the Department. Occasional briefing with students and orientation on discipline in the department and in the University as a whole were done during the year.

CONFERENCES/WORKSHOPS/SEMINARS AND PUBLIC LECTURES HOSTED BY THE DEPARTMENT

The department is planning to organise workshops and seminars on matters relating to students' activities and discipline on the campus.

STUDENT MATTERS

a. Students' Population by Academic Programmes and Levels of Study

The students' population was 153 in 2020/2021 session. The postgraduate students are not included. The students' population consists of males and females at each level. This is shown in the table below:

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE EDUCATION

DR HAMEED OLALEKAN BOLAJI

B.Sc. (Ed.), M.Ed., Ph.D. (Ilorin)

Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Science Education is saddled with the responsibility of training students to be world class science teacher and information disseminator. The Department is living up to expectation by producing, in different academic sessions, first, second and third best graduating students across its entire degree programme. The Department of Science Education has contributed to the growth of the University through student enrolment and quality training.

The Department parades seasoned and competent academic staff that are versed in their areas of specialisation. This crop of competent personnel is dedicated to the core values of Al- Hikmah University and the objectives of the Department.

The Faculty of Education was established as the 4th College of the University in 2008/2009 academic session and it started as the Department of Education. At that time, the Department of Education offered degree programmes in Arts, Islamic Studies and Arabic Education. By the beginning of 2011/2012 academic session, the Department of Education had increased in students' population and in its degree offerings to justify division of the existing degree programmes into three distinct departments. Specifically, in 2012, the Department of Education split into Departments of Science Education, Educational Management and Counseling Education and Arts & Social Science Education. Currently, the Department of Science Education runs the following degree programmes;

1. B.Sc. (Ed.) Biology
2. B.Sc. (Ed.) Chemistry
3. B.Sc. (Ed.) Computer Science
4. B.Sc. (Ed.) Mathematics
5. B.Sc. (Ed.) Physics
6. B.Ed. Educational Technology
7. BLIS Library and Information Science

c. Students' Welfare

All forms of grievances from students are entertained and handled with maturity and through dialogue at departmental meetings. Specific grievances in the department relate to the request for improvement in the organization of tutorials and specifically request from students for participating in National competitions/ workshops.

d. Student Activities

The students' activities include level advising and academic guidance. Also, students interact with themselves through Science Education Students' Association (SESA) where they discuss their concern and challenges and communicate to the Level Adviser or the Head of Department. They as well, through the SESA organize tutorial.

Professor of Public Health & Health Education Specialist.
Dean

BRIEF ON THE FACULTY

The Faculty of Health Sciences was established in the year 2018 through the combined efforts of the Founder, Alhaji Chief (Dr.) Abdur-Raheem Oladimeji (OFR), the Council, Senate and Management of the Al-Hikmah University, under Prof. M.T.O Ibrahim as Vice- Chancellor.

Below are the Deans of the Faculty and their respective tenures of office:

S/N	Name	Date
1.	Prof. D. B. Parakoyi	2018 – 2020
2.	Dr. M. J. Saka	2020 – 2021
3.	Dr. M. E. Balogun	2021 – 2021
4.	Prof. O. O. Kayode	2021 – to date

The Management of the University successfully secured the National Universities Commission (NUC) verification to commence Community Health and Medical Laboratory Science programmes in July 2018 after which Medical Laboratory Science Council of Nigeria (MLSCN) verified and approved commencement of trainings of professionals in Medical Laboratory Science. The University went further to establish Anatomy, Nursing and Physiology Programmes via verification by the National Universities Commission (NUC) in September, 2019.

The details of staff that were engaged to maintain these departments are as contained in their various hand books as viz: Community Health Hand Book, Medical Laboratory Science Hand Book, Anatomy Hand Book, Physiology Hand Book and Nursing Science Hand Book.

ACTIVITIES EXECUTED IN THE FACULTY DURING THE SESSION

1. Appointment Of New Dean For The Faculty

The Management of Al-Hikmah University appointed the fourth Dean for the Faculty of Health Sciences in person of Professor O.O. Bode-Kayode. Professor Bode-Kayode took over reigns of the Faculty after handing-over ceremony from Dr. M.E. Balogun on the 8th November, 2021.

2. Nuc Accreditation for MLS and Public Health Programmes

The Faculty, under the able leadership of the current Al-Hikmah Management team led by Professor Noah Yusuf, secured full National University Commission (NUC) accreditation for Medical Laboratory Science and Public Health programmes. These programmes received encouraging reports from the NUC to continue and improve upon what is currently on ground for effective academic delivery.

3. Medical Laboratory Science Council Of Nigeria (MLSCN) Accreditation Exercise

The Representatives of Medical Laboratory Science Council of Nigeria (MLSCN) visited the Department of Medical Laboratory Science, Faculty of Health Sciences, Al-Hikmah University, Nigeria to certify the availability and authenticity of staff and teaching equipment in the Department. To the Glory of God and able leadership and support of the Al-Hikmah University management team, the Department once again secured full Council accreditation.

4. Medical Laboratory Science Maiden Professional Examination

Upon full accreditation by the NUC and MLSCN, the department was qualified to have the first ever MLSCN professional examination for the 400 level students (The Unique II). A team of the MLSCN representative led by Professor A. Emokpaecame to moderate and grade the students eligible for the examination from the 2nd – 3rd November 2021. All thanks to Allah, all the students did the University proud with resounding success of 100%.

5. Visitation And Verification By Nursing Council

The Nursing Council of Nigeria (NCN) visited the Department of Nursing Science, Faculty of Health Sciences, Al-Hikmah University, Ilorin, Nigeria to verify the availability and authenticity of staff and teaching equipment in the Department. To the Glory of God and able leadership and support of the Al-Hikmah University management team, the Department was certified to continue with the Nursing Science's programme.

6. Investiture And Induction Into The African Institutes Of Public Health Professionals (AIPHP)

On Wednesday 24th November 2021, the Department of Community Health hosted the African Institute of Public Health Professionals (AIPHP) to confer the award of Good Will Ambassador Honour on the Founder Al-Hikmah University, Alhaji (Chief) Dr. Abdur-raheem Oladimeji (OFR) and the Vice-Chancellor, Al-Hikmah University, Professor Noah Yusuf.

The Institute inducted three (3) members of staff in the Faculty; Dr. A.S. Lawal, Dr. M.E. Balogun and Ms. L.O. Oladimeji; as “Fellows” of the Institute. The 1st five (5) graduates with B.Sc. (Hons) in Public Health Degree were inducted as “Associates” of the Institutes.

7. Floating of Faculty Journal

The Faculty has concluded plans to commission a Faculty Journal, Al-Hikmah Journal of Health Sciences (AJHS), hopefully the first Publication will be out in the early quarters of 2022.

8. Graduation of First Set of Undergraduate Students in the Faculty Of Health Sciences

At the convocation ceremony of the 2020/2021 session, the Faculty would be graduating the first set of students upon completion of education in Public Health Science. Each student would earn the B.Sc. (Hons) Degree and will be qualified to proceed to the postgraduate.

9. Graduation of First Set of Postgraduate Students in the Faculty of Health Sciences

At the convocation ceremony of the 2020/2021 session, the Faculty would be graduating the first set of postgraduate students upon completion of education in Public Health Science. Each student would earn the Postgraduate Diploma Degree.

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Management of Al-Hikmah University, having realised that Anatomy programme forms the bedrock of all medical programmes and that it is very vital to the long-term vision of having College of Medicine, the programme was successfully verified in 2019 by the National University Commission (NUC) to begin training students in the noble field and to also service other programmes in the Faculty of Health Sciences such as Nursing Science, Medical Laboratory Science, Community Health, Physiology.

The Department is made up of competent, reliable and selfless scholars across the specialisations in Anatomy viz; Molecular and Biological Anthropology and Human Genetics, Endocrinology and Reproductive Anatomy, and Neuroanatomy.

The Department was established in the year 2019 having realised the need to have more Basic Medical Science courses in addition to the existing ones. The departmental curriculum has been carefully designed and structured to reflect new developments at local and global levels, to enable the students to be practitioners capable of shaping a better and safer world. The Department is staffed by competent, reliable and selfless scholars of national and international repute who have worked assiduously in their careers to shape the future of the students that pass through them.

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

In line with the preparation for the NUC accreditation exercise in 2022, necessary laboratory equipment as required by the NUC need to be provided to secure the departmental full accreditation of the departmental programmes.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY HEALTH

PROF. KAYODE, OLUBODE OLU

B.S (Trinity); M.P.H. (Chapel-Hill); Ph.D. (Ilorin); Cert. EPI (Atlanta, USA); HES (New- York, USA),
Professor of Public Health & Health Education Specialist.
Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Community Health was established in 2018 with the undergraduate degree programmes in Public Health. The first set, consisting of five (5) students are to graduate in the upcoming convocation of the 2020/2021 academic session. The Department currently has 48 students in 100 Level, 45 in 200 Level, and 15 students in the 300 Level.

In November, 2019 the NUC approved additional Postgraduate Diploma in Public Health after a resource verification exercise. A Public Health Museum and Laboratory was established to support teaching and research and to help students develop skills in a variety of common field related situations. The Department of Community Health was one of the Departments approved after verification by the National University Commission (NUC) prior to the 2018/2019 session. The Department received full accreditation in June, 2021.

The Department started with the Public Health programme, with a student population of 5 and an academic staff strength of 3. Since then, both the students and staff population have grown appreciably. Currently, the Department has a student population of one hundred and fourteen (114), and it graduated its first set of students in the convocation ceremonies of 4th December, 2021.

The staff strength is still very weak, with only a tenure staff and 8 part-time and adjunct staff. The Department also does not have a secretary and a clerical officer.

The training of highly skilled public health officer is a critical element in the attainment of sustainable development goals and implementation of universal health coverage. In 2018, the University launched the Department of Public Health Science with a vision to produce capable hands to serve humanity as scholars and practitioners in the field of Public Health in line with international standards.

The Department has been conducting academic programme as approved by the NUC and guided by the curriculum which has been carefully designed and structured to reflect new developments at local and global levels, to enable the students to be practitioners capable of shaping a better and safer world. The Department is also proposing the establishment of more programmes.

In the year 2019 under review, NUC approved the proposed Postgraduate Diploma in Public Health which was designed to also focus on the needs of public health managers at the service delivery sector, in order to assist in improving the services offered at the community level. The Department is set to graduate the first set of Post Graduate Diploma Students, and also proposing the initiation of Master in Public Health Programme.

Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Bachelor of Medical Laboratory Science (BMLS) programme at Al-Hikmah University Ilorin was established in the year 2018 having realised the need to have qualified hands to serve humanity as scholars and practitioners in the field of Medical Laboratory Science in line with international standards. The commencement of the programme took off after the approval of resource verification by both the National University Commission (NUC) and Medical Laboratory Science Council of Nigeria (MLSCN). The course took off with a total of 56 students comprising 13 students in 200 Level and 43 students at 100 Level of which one of them got transferred to Ambrose Alli University, Ekpoma and another to Crescent University, Abeokuta.

The Department was instituted to produce enough professionals in the field of Medical Laboratory Science to address the challenges of laboratory services and research in health and emerging infectious and non-communicable diseases. The Department is made up of competent, reliable and selfless scholars of national and international repute, who have worked assiduously in their areas of specialisation in medical laboratory science, viz: Haematology, Blood Transfusions Science, Medical Microbiology, Parasitology, Virology, Chemical Pathology, Immunology and Histopathology.

The Department has initiated the statutory Medical Laboratory Science Council of Nigeria (MLSCN) student indexing for the first and second batches of fifty (50) students each. The Department has also had its first professional examination.

DEPARTMENT OF NURSING SCIENCE

DR A. S. LAWAL

B.Sc., M.Ph., M.Ed., RPHN.

Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Nursing Science was established by the University in 2019/2020 session and approved to commence intake of students by the National University Commission (NUC). The programme took off with 5 pioneer students at 100 Level in the 2019/2020 academic session with only one academic staff. There is no substantive administrative and supportive staff till date.

In October, 2021, the Nursing Midwifery Council of Nigeria visited the University for advisory and resource verification exercise. The Council expressed satisfaction with the commitment of the University but observed and reported gross shortage of academic staff and enjoined the Management to urgently address the issue.

In pursuance of the global attainment of sustainable development goals and implement action of universal health coverage, the training of highly skilled and competent nurse is vital to diagnosis, treatment and human response to health and illness. The Department of Nursing Science has a vision to produce nursing professionals with specialised knowledge and skills, and with focus on the care of individuals, families and community in order to attain and maintain optimal health and quality life. The Department pursues academic programme guided by the curriculum which has been carefully designed and structured to demonstrate knowledge, professional attitudes, skills and civility consistent with global best practices and standard.

In the year under review, Nursing and Midwifery Council of Nigeria (NMCN) conducted advocacy, resource verification and other assessment with a view to preparing the programme for NUC accreditation.

Challenges and Way Forward

1. We do not have HOD's office
2. We do not have standard laboratory and equipment
3. We do not have departmental Secretary

The above should be provided for smooth running of the Department and also to prepare us for NUC accreditation exercise.

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

ACTIVITIES IN THE FACULTY

S/N	Programmes	Activities
1.	History and International Studies	Departmental Union- HISSA is a body or an association that brings all the students together under one umbrella for social relations and learning. Their activities in 2017/2018: new students were welcomed and put through during their registration and tutorial lectures were held in all the courses taken in 100 Level and 200 Level. The association equally applied for an excursion, though it was not approved by the University authority. This is required for all History and International Relations students to boost their practice and knowledge of what they have learnt in the classroom.
2.	Islamic Studies	Students in the Department of Islamic Studies engage in various activities such as; seminar on project writing for final year students, Annual Orientation Programme for the new students, Annual Public Lecture, Annual Islamic Studies Students' Association (ISSA) Day, Annual Quiz Competition and inter -departmental sport activities in the Faculty and so on.

3.	Mass Communication	During the academic session under review, the Departmental Students' Association, Mass Communication Students Association, which had been inactive for two academic sessions, was revived, with new executive members elected among the 300 and 400 Level students. However, there was no major activity of the association during the session.
4.	Political Science and Public Administration	Students do from time to time engage in extracurricular activities e.g. departmental football match and other sporting activities. They also engage in Intra-Departmental Debate and Inter-Departmental Debate from time to time.
5.	Languages	Arabic Students Association (ASA) undertook the following activities in the 2020/2021 academic session. (a) It organized orientation programme for the new set of Arabic Students that were admitted in 2020/2021 academic session; (b) It organized a three-day conference Themed: "Unity is Power" for the Association of Arabic and Islamic Studies Students in Nigeria (AAISSN) (c) Also, it organised the Annual United Nation International Arabic Day, which among other activities, included lectures, debates and quiz competition.

OUTCOMES/INNOVATIONS

Development of course ware as well as preparation of course outlines by every lecturer. This was Management's directive after a day seminar for all academic staff. A substantial number of faculties have started the implementation.

I am happy to report that lecturers in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences are gradually complying, especially during this current academic session. The Faculty encouraged the lecturers who are yet to comply to do so.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

DR T.S. ABEJIDE

B.A., M.A., Ph.D (Ilorin)

Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Bachelors degree programme in History and International Relations represents one of the programmes with which the University took-off during the 2005/2006 academic session. It started with 3 registered students at 100 Level with only 3 academic staff. At present, we have almost 170 students and 7 academic and 2 non-teaching staff in the Department. The Department has developed to the extent that the National Universities Commission (NUC) approved M.A. History degree programme for the Department. During the 2018/2019 academic session, the Department admitted its first set of postgraduate students.

b. Student Welfare

The Department through its various level advisers have undertaken some steps towards the student's welfare.

- a. Counseling
- b. Offering advice during lecture
- c. Interaction with their parents occasionally, etc.

Departmental Union- HISSA is a body or an association that brings all the students together under one umbrella for social relations and learning.

Their activities in 2020/2021: New students were welcomed and put through during their registration Tutorial lectures were held in all the courses taken in 100 Level and 200 Level.

The association equally applied for an excursion and it was approved by the University authority. This is required for all History and International Relations students to boost their practice and knowledge of what they have learnt in the classroom.

OUTCOMES/INNOVATIONS

It is expedient to note that during the 2020/2021 academic session, the Department presented final year results for Senate approval, with about 15 students in Second Class (Honours) Upper Division, 31 in Second Class (Honours) Lower Division and only One Student in Third Class (Honours).

CHALLENGES AND OUTCOMES

The Department faced some challenges during the 2020/2021 academic session. For example, the number of academic staff was not commensurate with the large number of students at both the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. To ameliorate the situations, two part-time lecturers were appointed to assist the Department to teach some undergraduate courses during the 2020/2021 academic session.

DEPARTMENT OF ISLAMIC STUDIES

DR S.A. ADENIGBA

Ag. Head, Islamic Studies

B.A. Hons., M.A (Islamic Studies), PGD (HUI), Ph.D. (Ojo)

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Islamic Studies programme started in January, 2006 with 30 students, Assistant Lecturers, Lecturer II and Lecturer I. They were able to set the standard of academic excellence from the inception of the Department. Today, the department can boast of 384 students and it is strengthened by the presence of 2 tenured Professors, 3 Senior Lecturers (S/L), 2 Lecturer I (L/I), 2 Lecturer II and 1 Assistant Lecturer (A/L) with 1 secretary and 1 clerical officer. These lecturers are highly experienced and are committed to excellence. So far, the department has produced twelve (12) First Class graduates and some of them are already part of the mainstream academic staff of the University while many of them are pursuing postgraduate programmes at different Universities in Nigeria and abroad.

The decision to commence on Master Degree (M.A) as well as the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) programmes in Islamic Studies was occasioned by the desire of the graduands from the Department of Islamic Studies to obtain Higher Degrees in the field. In year 2014, the Department got the approval for Postgraduate Programmes in Islamic Studies. So far, the Department has graduated 5 sets of M.A. students with a ray of hope to produce Ph.D. holders very soon.

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

2020/2021 Academic Session was a special year to the Department of Islamic Studies, of Al-Hikmah University, Ilorin. Full accreditation was obtained by the Department, two of its staff were elevated, one to the post of Senior Lecturer and the other to the rank of Lecturer II. The staff are: Dr S.B. Suraju and Mallam Abdullahi Sayuti Hassan respectively.

However, despite the promotion of some staff, the Department is still suffering from the acute shortage of academic staff to cope with overbearing workload and students' population in the Department at the following levels:

- a. M.A Islamic Studies
 - b. M.Phil/Ph.D Islamic Studies
 - c. Ph.D Islamic Studies
- In the Postgraduate programme, the scale of project supervision which is restricted by 'NUC' to ratio 5:1 poses serious challenges. An extract from 'NUC' guideline is quoted below:

No lecturer should supervise more than 3 Ph.D. Candidates and 2 M.A Candidates at a time.

If we are to go by the existing number of the Postgraduate students alone in the Department which is 93, the scenario poses more challenges to the Department. The Department, therefore, requires more staffing at the middle cadre, i.e, 2 lecturer I with Ph.D to enhance quality assurance and resounding academic output.

Our main library though properly equipped with important references required for Postgraduate Studies stills need more important references in Islamic Studies such as Encyclopaedia of Islamic Studies, Encyclopaedia of Islamic Legal Studies which have been recommended to the Management through the librarian, but unfortunately they are yet to be procured.

SUGGESTION

Sound knowledge of Arabic language should be made a condition for admission to study Islamic Studies at the Undergraduate and Postgraduate levels. This is because Islamic knowledge without sound knowledge of Arabic will only lead to the production of half-baked scholars of the discipline.

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGES

DR ABDUSALAM UTHMAN
B.A. (Azhar), M.A., Ph.D, (Ilorin)
Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

In January, 2005, Al-Hikmah University was licensed by the Federal Government of Nigeria. It began academic activities in 2005/2006 session with three colleges, now faculties. The faculties are Faculty of Humanities and Social of Sciences, Faculty of Management Sciences and Faculty of Natural Sciences. Three faculties have been added. They are Faculties of Education, Law and Health Sciences.

Department of Languages came into being in 2005/2006 academic session after the University was licenced by the Federal Government of Nigeria to run undergraduate degree programmes. Two programmes are housed in the Department of Languages: Arabic and English Programmes. In other words, there are two units in the Department: The Arabic and the English Units.

At inception in 2005/2006 academic session, students' population in the Department was six (6), two in the Arabic Unit, four in the English Unit. In 2018/2019 academic session, the students' population in the Arabic Unit rose to 68, English Unit 25. Dr Qaasim Badmassi (now Professor) was the foundation Ag. Head of Department, while Dr Uthman AbdusSalam is the current Ag. Head of Department.

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Mass Communication commenced full academic activities in the 2009/2010 academic session in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences of the University. Since becoming fully operational, the Department runs a Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.) Degree in Mass Communication, designed to equip students who intend to make a career in communication with professional and academic training in line with the unfolding realities of ICT-oriented media practices. The Department graduated its first set of students in the 2012/2013 academic session, while its ninth set of students graduated in the 2020/2021 academic session under review. The Department gained full accreditation by the NUC in April, 2021 upon the expiration of the previous exercise.

c. Students' Welfare

Throughout the 2020/2021 academic session, the Department, through the Ag. HOD and Level Advisers, as well as other academic staff members, attended diligently and dutifully to matters bordering on students' welfare. The Department ensured that students with poor academic performances were identified counselled, and those needing psychological counseling were referred to the University's Counselling Unit.

d. Student Activities

During the academic session under review, the Departmental Students' Association, Mass Communication Students Association, remained active with new executive members elected among the 300 and 400 Level students. However, there was no major activity organised by the association during the session.

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

The challenges of staff attrition and lack of functional student-training community radio, both terrestrial and online, persisted during the 2020/2021 academic session. The Department recommends, as a way forward, that University Management should expedite action on the establishment of the University's Community Radio Broadcasting Station, Wisdom F.M., as well as any hiring of middle level and senior academics to boost the academic staff strength of the Department. The Department does not have any clerical officer as at the time of filing this report and this affects the smooth running of the Department. The NUC has directed that all Institutions running Mass Communication Programme should unbundle to eight (8) different programmes. The Management should endeavour to comply with this directive.

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

DR A. A. ADEKOLA

B.Sc. Ed. (Ilorin), M.Sc. (Port-Harcourt), Ph.D. (Malete)
Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration was initially named as Department of Political Science and Conflict Resolution. The Department was established during the 2006/2007 academic session with a moderate students' enrolment of 15.

The idea of floating a degree programme in Public Administration, to be domiciled in the Department of Political Science and Public Administration started during the 2017/2018 academic session. As one of the four sub-divisions of the parent-discipline, political science. In 2018, the Nigerian University Commission did resource verification exercise for the programme and the university was authorised to start the programme. By 2018/2019 academic session, the programme admitted four students into 200 Level. In 2020/2021 session, the Department graduated three students along with 42 students graduated in political Science and Conflict Resolution programme. The Department graduated a total number of 45 students in this session. In 2020/2021 academic session, the two programmes: Political Science and Conflict Resolution & Public Administration Programmes conducted NUC accreditation exercise and the programmes earned full accreditation.

The Department was established in 2006/2007 academic session and was named Department of Political Science and Conflict Resolution to award B.Sc. Political Science and Conflict Resolution. The Department was established to produce graduate that will address the issues of bad governance and insecurity that define Third World countries most especially African states. The product of this Department are expected to become high-calibre professionals in the administration of public and private organisation in Nigeria and abroad. The Department which started with just 15 students has graduated over 500 students. In 2017/2018 academic session, the Management of the University was enthusiastic about the idea of degree in Public Administration, since the programme could easily leverage on the existing facilities and resources in the Department of Political Science and Conflict Resolution; hence the idea was approved by the Senate. That development necessitated a change in the nomenclature of the Department to Political Science and Public Administration. Thus, the Department did resource verification by the National University Commission and was authorised to start the programme in 2018/2019 academic session with average students of 4 which were enrolled as Direct Entry students. By 2020/2021 academic session, the first set of student graduated.

Furthermore, the Department trains and instills in students the capacity for critical thinking and informed perspectives through a broad knowledge of theoretical and practical issues in politics, administration and diplomacy; trains skilled manpower for educational institutions, public bureaucracy, private sector and International Governmental Organisations, and Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs). The Department implores prospective students in Political Science and Public Administration enroll for either B.Sc. degree in Political Science and Conflict Resolution or Public administration. The Department is blessed with qualified resource personnels with relevant experience.

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

The Department was confronted with a number of challenges which include the followings:

1. Inadequate Staff: The Department is confronted with the challenges of inadequate staff. Presently, the Department has only five (5) academic staff, no secretary and an Office Assistant shared with another Department. Two programmes are domiciled in the Department. The Department, in a session is engaging nothing less than 19 to 20 Part-time and Adjunct lecturers. The Department implores the Management to employ more academic staff and post relevant support staff to the Department.

2. Funds: the Department is confronted with inadequate funds. The ways and means given to the Department in a session is not enough to run the Department. At the inception of academic session, the Department usually incurs debt before the ways and means is paid. We implore the Management on the prompt release of ways and means and possibly increase it.
3. Postgraduate Programmes: As a result of inadequate academic staff, the Department finds it extremely difficult to float postgraduate programme because the load of work on the two programmes in the Department have over weighed the strength or capacity of the available staff. The Department appeals to the Management to engage more senior academic staff who are capable of handling postgraduate courses. Furthermore the Department is in dire need of support staff most especially, Secretary or Senior Typist.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND CRIMINOLOGY

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

There is dearth of staff in the Department. There is a need for more office equipment to function effectively (e.g. HP all in one System, Photocopy Machine, voltage stabiliser, Notice board, Fridge, furniture, cabinet, Long/Guests chairs, etc.) as the Department would be due for accreditation in the following academic session.

FACULTY OF LAW

PROF. AJEPE TAIWO SHEHU
LL.B, BL, LL.M, Ph.D
Professor/Dean of Faculty

BRIEF ON THE FACULTY

In line with the National Universities Commission's (NUC) approved Developmental Phases of Al-Hikmah University, and in pursuance of the University's mandate to provide quality and functional tertiary education to the teeming Nigerian populace, the Senate of the University, in her 39th meeting held on Monday, 2nd, 2012, approved the establishment of the College of Law (now Faculty of Law). The Senate also mandated the Management to commence infrastructure developments of the proposed Faculty. After the Senate was satisfied with the construction and furnishing of the Faculty building, it further mandated the Management, in her 57th meeting held on Wednesday, 28th May, 2014, to start the process for approval by NUC and the Council of Legal Education (CLE). Consequently, the NUC granted the Faculty approval to commence academic activities. Further, in July, 2015, the Council of Legal Education granted the Faculty the requisite approval. Thus, the Faculty started its programmes in October, 2015.

The National Universities Commission's accreditation team visited the Faculty, from the 3rd to 6th of December, 2017, for accreditation. At the completion of the exercise, the Faculty was granted full accreditation.

The Faculty of Law started its programme in October, 2015, with Prof. Abikan Ibrahim Abdulkadir, as the Pioneer Dean. The Faculty took off with three departments, Department of Islamic Law, with Barr. Onikosi A. A. as its Pioneer head; Department of Private and Business Law, with Prof. Hakeem Ijaya as its Pioneer head; and Department of Public and International Law, with Dr. H.A. Hammed as its Pioneer head..

DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING

DR UTHMAN AHMAD BUKOLA
B.Sc. (Hons.), M.Sc., Ph.D. (Malete), ACA
Ag. Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department was established in 2006/2007 academic session to run an undergraduate degree programme in the Faculty of Management Sciences. It got its initial full accreditation in 2008 with a students population of 212 and graduated its first set of students in 2009/2010 academic session with 27 graduands. The students population has increased over the years. It has grown to over 300 students by 2020/2021 academic session. During 2019/2020 academic session, the Department started a postgraduate diploma as well as Master Degree in Accounting.

The Department took off with six academic staff in 2007 with diverse experience in the industry and academia. The staff strength has grown over the years with the dominance of Ph.D. holders in accounting as well as chartered accountants. The lecturers are specialists in areas such as Financial Accounting, Management Accounting, Taxation, Auditing, Government Accounting, Cost Accounting, International Accounting as well as Islamic Accounting.

In the year 2019, due to the Department's longstanding academic quality and consistent update of the curriculum to embed professional and international best practices in the accounting profession, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed with the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria (ICAN) for a linkage programme that would enable our products to enjoy special status in ICAN examination exemption. The MoU which elevates our graduates to the final stage of ICAN professional examination is prestigious and highly sought after by recognised universities in Nigeria. The Department is also a proud partner of the Association of Certified Chartered Accountants (ACCA). With the feats achieved, the Department continues to develop human capital that is needed in the finance industry, home and abroad.

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

The major challenge being faced by the Department is staffing. The current size/ number of academic staff does not match the growing demand for the programmes in the Department. The Department has students enrolled for B.Sc., PGD, M.Sc. as well as Ph.D. Programmes.

The suggested way forward on this problem is to employ more staff with requisite skills at the top academic levels. This may bring financial burden on the Management; hence the Department is of the opinion that the Management can consider lower cadre lecturers who are trainable while they grow gradually in the system.

DEPARTMENT OF BANKING AND FINANCE

DR T. S. AJAGBE

B.Sc. (Hons.), M.Sc., Ph.D .
Acting Head of Department

BRIEF ON THE DEPARTMENT

The Department was created in 2007/2008 with a total number of fourteen (14) students as pioneer students. A year after, the total number of students increased to thirty-eight (38). The Department produced her first set of graduating students totaling 11 in the 2010/2011 academic session.

In the year 2018, because of the enrichment in curriculum, the Department signed an MOU with the Chartered Institute of Bankers of Nigeria (CIBN) for a linkage programme that would qualify graduates from this Department to become chartered by CIBN after writing just five papers out of the numerous qualifying examinations they are expected to write. From the inception, the Department has continued to grow and develop in quality and quantity of human, physical and material resources.

In 2019, the Department was granted approval to commence postgraduate programme leading to the award of Master of Science (M.Sc.) in Finance and Postgraduate Diploma in Finance after the National University Commissions (NUC) resource verification exercise.

In the year 2021, the Department was re-awarded full accreditation by the NUC, after undergoing serious screening by the NUC.

The curriculum of the Department is geared towards promoting academic excellence and also ensuring moral and spiritual uprightness to face imposing vicious challenges. Finally, the Department is doing well with dedicated staff that teach various courses in the Department.

CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

Shortage of lecturers and non-academic staff:

Decrease in Students' Enrolment: This percentage decrease in students' enrolment in the department is still high. Massive advertisement could be used to enhance the enrollment.
